

Book your volunteer placement with the Nakavango Conservation Programme for November 2015, and stand a chance for you and a friend to win two nights on an African luxury safari boat on the Chobe River!

When you book your minimum two week placement which falls anytime over November 2015, your name will be entered into a lucky draw, with an entry for every week booked. (The competition will also apply to placements with start dates prior to November that continue into November).

The prize will be valid for 6 months as of 1 November 2015, and may be redeemed during your placement with the Nakavango Conservation Programme. The winner will be announced on 1 October 2015.

You and a friend will enjoy 2 luxurious nights on-board one of the Chobe Princesses, part of the luxury Zambezi Queen Collection. The Chobe Princesses are beautiful houseboats based on the Chobe River, allowing our guests unparalleled access to the river frontage of the Chobe National Park. Endless skies, lush floodplains and incredible wildlife, including one of the greatest concentrations of elephant, makes the Chobe a sought-after destination.

Terms and conditions:

- Your prize will include 2 nights for two people sharing, on board one of the Chobe Princesses
- Your prize will include all accommodation; full board; all house wines, beers, soft drinks and water; all activities (including game viewing by tender boat, birding and fishing); all licenses, fees and levies.
- Please note that dates for travel are subject to availability and prizes do not include flights, transfers other than from Kasane or car hire. (Should you claim your Chobe Princess experience while on your Nakavango placement, return transfers from Nakavango to Kasane will be arranged for you).
- This prize is valid from 01 November 2015 – 31 May 2016 and subject to availability.
- Voucher must be presented upon booking your experience with Mantis.
- Voucher is non-transferable or redeemable for cash.
- To redeem your prize please contact Lisa Dyboll at the Zambezi Queen Collection office on +27 79 871 7603 or email info@zqcollection.com.
